Charlie & Lola came to play & GIVEAWAY

I recently wrote about the new Eric Carle items from Kids Preferred on my site last month. We are fans of Eric Carle. Who didn't grow up reading The very Hungry Caterpillar? My girls LOVE this classic book and love the new items at Kids Preferred.

One item they love is the The Very Hungry Caterpillar Large Plush. He is adorable! This all-time favorite is now a cuddly, huggable large plush toy that is sure to wiggle its way into your heart. Little ones can pretend to follow The Very Hungry Caterpillar as it grows from egg, to cocoon to a beautiful butterfly. The popular book behind this new 11-inch soft toy also teaches the days of the week, counting, and more.

This year celebrates the special Caterpillar's 40th Birthday!

We also had two new friends come to play with us! One of Sarah's favorite shows is Charlie & Lola. Even I like to watch it. So when Kids Preferred asked if wanted to review them we happily said yes.

The Talking Poseable Charlie & Lola Play Set is packaged in a reusable playscene and includes Charlie, standing 12 inches tall, and Lola, measuring 9.5 inches. Kids can bend the arms and legs into any pose for hours of fun. Each character speaks their signature opening line from the book, video and TV episode: "I have this little sister, Lola. She is small and very funny," says Charlie. Responds Lola, "I'm not small. I am BIG!".

You can see how much Sarah loves her "arlie an whoala"
